

Office of Service-Learning: Service-Learning and Research Scheme
HRM 352 Leadership and Teamwork
1st Lecture: 3/9/2007 (Mon) 9:30-11:00am ARG01

A. Overall Objectives

- To apply classroom knowledge to the community by drafting a proposal or conducting a study
- To understand the real environment of the local community
- To enhance students' problem-solving skills, communication skills, social competence and organizational skills
- To experience the spirit of mutual help and develop a sense of commitment in the community
- Date: Sept, 2007 to mid-Nov, 2007

B. General Training (22 Sept 2007)

Students are required to attend the workshops so as to learn and practice appropriate service provision attitudes and skills in medical care, and laboratory settings. It is hoped that through students' active participation and learning by doing, they could gain more confidence and became better equipped for their service practicum. The objectives of training workshops are to help students:

- To understand the meaning and significance of service practicum.
- To acquire essential communication and problem-solving skills during the service process.
- To develop greater sensitivity towards the residents, for example, in hostels, especially those who require health care.
- To meet with field supervisors during agency visits and start thinking of their own learning objectives.
