

Highlights of the Agreement on Collaboration of Research Postgraduate Programmes

- Registered research postgraduate students of the seven institutions are eligible to enroll in listed courses.
- A student may only apply to attend the listed courses that are directly relevant to his/her field of study. Application must be submitted to the host institution through the home institution by the prescribed deadline set by the host institution.
- Acceptance of the student is at the discretion of the host institution and is subject to availability, student quota and other pertinent factors of the courses.
- Students admitted to study at a sister institution will be officially registered for the courses at the host institution, and are required to participate fully in the course, including completion of coursework and writing of the examinations.
- Grades will be given to students at the end of the courses, and a transcript will be sent to the student's home institution by the host institution.
- The decision as how the grades should be used is at the sole discretion of the home institution.
- Waiver of fees will be granted to research postgraduate students from sister institutions.

'Home' institution refers to the institution that with which a student is enrolled and 'host' institution refers to the institution to which he/she will travel to take course(s).
