

Lingnan Masterclass Series 嶺大大師班系列

The Meaning of Life – Philosophy's Search for Purpose

人生意義——
哲學對目的的探尋

Does life have a meaning?

If not, why should we keep going?

If yes, what is the meaning of life?

 In this masterclass...

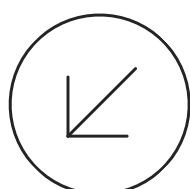

Prof. Rafael De Clercq guides us through one of the most profound questions in human history: the Meaning of Life. Drawing on insights from great philosophers past and present, he will challenge us to consider existence, value, and what makes life truly worthwhile.

Join us to reflect, question, and explore the timeless mystery of why we live, and what gives our lives meaning.

Date: 16 October

Time: 10:30-11:15

Venue: Learning Commons,
Lingnan University

About the Speaker

Professor Rafael De Clercq

Prof. Rafael De Clercq is an Associate Professor in the Department of Philosophy at Lingnan University. He received his PhD in Philosophy from KU Leuven in 2002 after spending time as an affiliate PhD student at University College London. His areas of academic interest include aesthetics, metaphysics, and analytic philosophy.

