Course Description

The course is the continuation of the JAP1101 or the JAP1102 course and continues to develop students' ability to use Japanese for communicative purposes and to raise their awareness of Japanese culture. As with JAP1101 and JAP1102, the emphasis is on providing a stimulating and enjoyable learning experience by allowing students to discover and experience this new culture and language.

Important Notes

There is a HKD$900 course fee for non credit-bearing courses;

Students are not permitted to take any non credit-bearing course AND its equivalent credit-bearing course, whether concurrently or in succession; they must choose one or the other. If a student is subsequently found to have acquired additional credits by this means, an "F" grade will be given for the course.

For more information on additional language courses, please find from our website, <http://www.ln.edu.hk/ceal/courses/addlang.php>

Aims

The main aims of this course are to:

- provide you with further language tools to communicate both orally and in writing at a post-beginner level in Japanese
- further develop your confidence in your ability to communicate in Japanese in a variety of social situations
- maintain your interest by continuing to provide varied, engaging and interactive activities
- further increase your awareness of the global workplace through being exposed to aspects of Japanese culture

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the JAP1201 course, you will:

- be able to use key linguistic features in Japanese including past tense, non-past tense and the negative form
- be able to make simple purchases by stating what is wanted and asking the price.
- be able to give and receive information about quantities, numbers, prices, etc.
- be able to say what he/she likes and dislikes.
- be able to discuss what to do, where to go and make arrangements to meet.
- be able to understand everyday expressions aimed at the satisfaction of simple needs of a concrete type, delivered directly to him/her in clear, slow and repeated speech by a sympathetic speaker.
- be able to get an idea of the content of simpler informational material and short simple descriptions, especially if there is visual support.

Indicative Content

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

- will be able to use key linguistic features in Japanese, including past tense, non-past tense, negative form
- have acquired additional communication skills and be able to use them in a creative way
- have developed vocabulary linked to everyday social exchanges, professional exchanges and home-related topics

Teaching Method

Students will work on a wide range of communicative tasks and activities individually, in pairs or in small groups. The main teaching focus will be on using a communicative language teaching methodology and learner-centred methods of learning to encourage students to use and explore the new language for everyday communicative purposes. Since the teaching method will focus on oral communication and helping students to develop their confidence in learning and using Japanese, a maximum class size of 20 will be set.
