Brief Course Description

As we live in an increasingly digitalised world, this course seeks to deepen students' understanding of the fast-evolving digital culture, while explores and expands their creative potential in digital cultural production through a wide range of digital cultural forms.

It will do so by providing students with a critical understanding of how meanings and values are constructed and contested in processes of creative cultural production and audiences/consumers' reception and participation through a variety of digital forms, with a particular focus on the exercise of power over how we think, feel and act. It explores the opportunities and challenges digital technologies and platforms present for the creation of a globally interconnected space where people can conduct public life in positive, just and inclusive ways. The discussion focuses on such timely issues in contemporary public life such as class, gender, (im-)migrants, race, the nation, social movement, and data and surveillance.

Students will engage in their own digital production projects. The creative processes of digital cultural production aim to enhance students' digital literacy and creativity, develop their digital cultural languages and organisational skills for personal, cultural, and socio-political expression and communication, and deepen their understanding of the politics, possibilities, and limitations of digital cultural formations in the world around us.

Aims

- To introduce students to critical theories and themes in studies of the production, reception, and participation of digital and internet culture, from material, historical, and socio-cultural perspectives

- To familiarize students with digital cultural languages for expression and communication and enhance their digital cultural literacy
- To enable students to explore their creative capabilities through digital cultures, and equip them with skills that are applicable in cultural and creative industries

Learning Outcomes (LOs)

On completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. develop the themes and theories in studies of the production, reception and participation of digital cultures
2. critically appraise key issues relating to the social, cultural and political aspects of digital and internet cultures around public issues
3. evaluate high level of digital cultural literacy, and basic skills of digital creativity applicable to culture and creative industries
4. explain an alternative digital cultural project on issues related to democracy, equality, and community in their own sociocultural contexts

Indicative Contents

Important Notes

- (1) Students are expected to spend a total of 9 hours (i.e. 3 hours of class contact and 6 hours of personal study) per week to achieve the course learning outcomes.
- (2) Students shall be aware of the University regulations about dishonest practice in course work, tests and examinations, and the possible consequences as stipulated in the Regulations Governing University Examinations and Course Work. In particular, plagiarism, being a kind of dishonest practice, is “the presentation of another person’s work without proper acknowledgement of the source, including exact phrases, or summarised ideas, or even footnotes/citations, whether protected by copyright or not, as the student’s own work”. Students are required to strictly follow university regulations governing academic integrity and honesty.
- (3) Students are required to submit writing assignment(s) using Turnitin.
- (4) To enhance students’ understanding of plagiarism, a mini-course “Online Tutorial on Plagiarism Awareness” is available on <https://pla.ln.edu.hk/>.

Progress presentation (30%)

* Progress presentations refer to instances where students present the planning, mid-term progress and the final product of their term project

* Peer assessment will be conducted as a reference for assessment of one's contribution to the group presentation or projects

Criteria	Excellent	Good	Pass	Failure
Content	Identifies clearly the main issues to be addressed	Identifies most of the main issues to be addressed	Identifies an issue area, but without specific delineation of the main issues to be addressed	Fail to identify an issue area and the main issues to be addressed

	Examines the issues from all important perspectives. Overall logic is clear.	Examines the issue / problem from most of the important perspectives but not all relevant arguments and counter arguments are fully examined.	Examines the question/ issue/ problem from some of the important perspectives.	No critical engagement with issues, and themes. Presentation characterized by serious inaccuracies and misunderstanding
	Presenter(s) engage the audience at all times, actively seeking for suggestions from the audiences and incorporate these insights into production decisions in thoughtful ways	Presenter(s) engage the audience most of the time, consistently seeking for suggestions from the audiences, and incorporate these insights into production decisions	Presenter(s) attempts to engage the audience, tries to seek for suggestions from the audiences, and to incorporate these insights into production decisions	Presenter(s) seem to make little attempt to engage the audience.
	Presents the progresses clearly and provide strong justification for production decisions made at each stage	Presents the progresses clearly and provide good justification for production decisions made at each stage	Presents some of the progresses and attempts to provide justification for production decisions made at each stage	Fail to presents the progresses and provide little or unconvincing justification for production decisions made at each stage
Team-work	Excellent performance of teamwork. Demonstrates full communication with formal roles for each group member. Equal distribution of workload.	Good performance of teamwork. Demonstrates some communication with roles for each group member. Moderate distribution of workload.	Fair performance of teamwork. Demonstrates limited communication with informal roles for each group member. Some distribution of workload.	Poor performance of teamwork. Demonstrates no communication with unclear roles for each group member. Unequal distribution of workload.

Creative Digital Project (40%)

peer assessment will be conducted as a reference for assessment of one's contribution to the group presentation or project.

Criteria	Excellent	Good	Pass	Failure
Level of effort	Production process and end-product demonstrates great effort and care.	Production process and end-product demonstrates sustained effort and care.
