

Higher Education Regionalization in Asia Pacific: Implications for Governance, Citizenship and University Transformation

John N. Hawkins, Ka Ho Mok and Deane E. Neubauer, Editors

Table of Contents

Part One: Conceptual Issues

Chapter 1: Deane E. Neubauer,

Introduction: Some Dynamics of Regionalization in Asia Pacific Higher Education

Chapter 2: Jane Knight, A Conceptual Framework for the Regionalization of Higher Education: Application to Asia

Chapter 3: Molly N. N. Lee, Regional Cooperation in Higher Education in Asia and the Pacific

Chapter 4: Miki Sugimura, The Function of Regional Networks in East Asian Higher Education

Part Two: Country Studies

Chapter 5: Akiyoshi Yonezawa and Arthur Meerman, Japanese Higher Education and Multilateral Initiatives in East Asia

Chapter 6: Wen Wen, China's Role in the Emerging Reality of Asia Regional Higher Education

Chapter 7: Professor Anthony R. Welch, Locating Indonesia within the Emergent
Regionalism of Southeast Asian Higher Education

Chapter 8: Gina Ordonez, The Philippines and the Global Labor Market: an Emergent form of Trans-regional Influence for Philippine Higher Education

Part Three: Regulatory and Governance Dimensions

Chapter 9: Ka Ho Mok, Regional Cooperation and Competition in Tango: Transnationalization of Higher Education and the Emergence of Regionalism in Asia

Chapter 10: Molly Nyet Ngo Lee, Institutional Autonomy in the Restructuring of University Governance

Chapter 11: John Hawkins, The Challenges of Regionalism and Harmonization for Higher Education in Asia

Chapter 12: John Hawkins, Ka Ho Mok, and Deane Neubauer, The Dynamics of Regionalization in Contemporary Asia Pacific Higher education