WELCOME TO
ISCTE
BUSINESS

WELCOME TO ISCTE BUSINESS SCHOOL

ISCTE Business School is a school with a growing international reputation, accredited by AACSB- Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, main educational accreditation organization operating on an international level, recognizing the school's excellence and high quality in the development of managers and leaders in a globalized world. IBS is also fully accredited by AMBA- Association of MBA and has a vast network of international partnerships. We have student and staff exchange agreements with more than 130 institutions worldwide.

IBS is one of four schools that constitute the University ISCTE-IUL - Instituto Universitário de Lisboa, along with the School of Sociology and Public Policy, School of Social Sciences and Humanities and the School of Technology and Architecture. ISCTE-IUL is at the Times Higher Education Young University Rankings, as one of the world's youngest universities that outperform their older counterparts when it comes to attracting overseas students and publishing international research and also at the Times Higher Education World Universities Rankings.

Located in the heart of Lisbon, one of the safest and most affordable capital cities in Europe and one of the world top tourist destinations, ISCTE Business School is recognised for its excellence in learning and research, international and multicultural environment, and the solid connection to the business world.

IBS has approximately 170 teachers (134.98 FTE) distributed throughout its six Departments: Accounting, Economics, Finance, Marketing, Operations and Management, Quantitative Methods for Management and Economics, and Human Resources and Organisational Behaviour. More than 3,200 students are currently enrolled in the 6 Undergraduate Programmes and 12 Masters Programmes offered by the school.

IBS IS A PIONEER SCHOOL in the teaching of management and business sciences, and the first where this was an autonomous area as opposed to a subject taught within the field of economics.

THE LINKS TO THE CORPORATE WORLD are a distinctive feature of our School. Since the outset, IBS has relied on the support of invited faculty from the business world whose collaboration has provided valuable input for our curricula. It is therefore not surprising that, regardless of the economic environment, successive generations of students have enjoyed employability rates close to 100%.

EVEN MORE IMPORTANTLY, companies recognize the high quality of the training given to IBS students and this confidence is boosted by the volume and excellence of the research produced by our faculty members and researchers. Internationalization is the second distinguishing feature of our School. Not only does IBS teach courses in partnerships with universities from Asia, Africa and South America but, within the Portuguese university framework, IBS has also pioneered the setting-up of a support office for Erasmus students. This model, which works in conjunction with universities around the world, has attracted so many foreign students that we have been unable to attain full reciprocity despite the growing number of IBS students who benefit from a training experience abroad. The ability to work in an international setting is clearly demonstrated by the number of Alumni working abroad, many of whom hold leadership positions in multinational companies.

INNOVATION AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP are the third distinctive feature of our School. Pedagogical innovation led to the updating of syllabuses as well as the introduction of new teaching methods; these include the development of case studies and software support for management and distance learning instruments. It is not by chance that many reference texts in the various management fields have been written by IBS faculty.

LASTLY, SPECIAL MENTION must be made of the close relationship that IBS faculty and staff develop with our students and the concern for their well-being as this is a decisive factor for the high academic performance of our students. The intellectual rigour in the classroom, the promotion of team work and the exposure to real case studies allow IBS to create value for our students, and guarantee they make positive contribution to the development of the national and global community.

LISBON IS EUROPE'S WEST COAST CAPITAL and Europe's gateway to Africa and the Americas. Bathed in an almost year-round shimmering light, it is also known as the "white city". The city's cheerful brightness, its warm and friendly atmosphere and mild Atlantic climate, combined with its old-world Mediterranean charm, make it a unique and inviting place to live and study. With its huge expanse of Atlantic coastline, Lisbon offers effortless access to some of the best beaches in Europe and is a stone's throw away from landmark tourist destinations and well-known historical sites such as Estoril and Sintra.

LISBON IS FULL OF HISTORICAL LANDMARKS, not to mention close to a number of World heritage sites. Portugal's past as a nation of explorers and pioneers, forerunners in trade and international partnerships, has created a multicultural atmosphere where cultures from around the world are reflected.

WITH ITS UNIQUE LEGACY, Lisbon has embraced the contemporary. The city is a dynamic result of its proud past and a vibrant, cosmopolitan present, alive with non-stop cultural events, a vibrant nightlife and renewed architectural verve.

LIVING IN LISBON is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to experience a unique combination of history and modernity. It is a city with an international flavour, with a multicultural population, where everyone feels welcome.

COST OF LIVING: In comparison with other major European cities, Lisbon is highly affordable. The cost of living is further lowered by the many subsidies, not least for accommodation in the ISCTE-IUL Residence and food in the campus restaurants, affordable to students.

RESIDENCE University Residence Professor José Pinto Peixoto meets some of the accommodation needs of its visiting students and teachers which, so far have only been served through the room and private house market across Lisbon. Located in the Monastery of Santos-o-Novo (17th century) - which is classified as a National Monument - on a small hill by the River Tagus, in Lisbon's east end, the residence benefits from a privileged view and is a short distance from the central railway station of Santa Apolónia, the typical neighbourhood of Alfama, downtown Lisbon, Terreiro do Paço, and also close to the new residential, commercial and service area of the Parque das Nações.

IBS BUSINESS AGENDA

The primary aim of IBS Masters Programmes is to prepare qualified professionals who are able to provide the skills and expertise that are valued in the real business world.

To achieve this aim, the companies themselves must be a constant presence in the classroom, in a variety of ways, helping particularly in the preparation of work plans and the design of final projects. In our Business Masters Programmes you will get to hear first-hand experiences of business professionals, told in the first person, who will bring you even closer to the corporate world reality.

Thus, each Business School module features the valuable participation of renowned experts in the area being studied, giving you increasingly relevant contact with the real job world and the less known aspects of the profession you chose.

Currently ISCTE Business School students study in more than 36 countries all over the world. Additionally, students of almost 60 nationalities are enrolled in our undergraduate and graduate programmes and in our annual Summer Schools. This multicultural atmosphere allows both Portuguese and foreign students to have first-hand contact with colleagues from a myriad of backgrounds, while sharing the experiences of their own culture.

“ This was my first experience living abroad. I learned how to live by myself and I had to deal with a completely different culture and language in a city where most people do not speak English. Personally, I feel that learning the language of a foreign country was the most important experience while studying abroad. It helps you to understand the culture and not to feel excluded. (...) If you are a foreigner, you might have to get used to being treated differently in a good way. Sometimes it means someone will want to talk to you, take a picture of you or offer you free drinks. After a few months, this city will feel like home. It has the perfect balance between the western world and the Chinese culture.

IBS EXCHANGE PROGRAMMES

ERASMUS+ AND OTHER FRAMEWORKS

By taking advantage of our exchange programmes, students get an invaluable chance to spend time studying at a university outside ISCTE-IUL for one or two semesters. It is an ideal opportunity to meet new people and immerse in a new culture. By going on an exchange, students get a chance to learn about other societies and cultures, further develop their spirit of self-reliance and the ability to adapt to new and challenging environments, while creating new and exciting contacts that will be a personal and professional asset in the future.

SUMMER SCHOOLS ABROAD

In addition or alternatively to the exchange programme, students can enroll in one of several Summer School programmes offered by ISCTE Business School, and immerse themselves in the culture of another country for three whole weeks while becoming acquainted with a different business environment through workshops and field trips to local companies.

> Prague (Czech Republic) > Ljubljana (Slovenia) > Balkan Express (Balkans region) > Bangalore (India)
> Seoul (South Korea) > Guangzhou (China) > Bangkok (Thailand) > Lisbon (Portugal)

The Global Village is an event organised by ISCTE-IUL's International Relations Office and an active group of inter-national students who want to share their experiences and cultures with students from other backgrounds. The main objective of the Global Village is to help international students feel more at home while providing the school with an opportunity to share a worldwide, multicultural experience. The Global Village promotes unique local products and the music, customs and traditions of the entire ISCTE-IUL community and our partner universities around the world.

EXCHANGE WEEK WITH FOREIGN VISITING PROFESSORS

All students of IBS have the possibility to benefit from direct contact with foreign professors who visit the school. For one week, the visiting academics offer workshops open to the community, which allow knowledge to be shared across borders in various areas of interest such as marketing and finance, among others. A certificate of participation is awarded to those attending these seminars.

IBS TESTIMONIES

Viktorija Vilkytyė
Credit Risk Analyst at Salt Mobile SA
Lisbon, Portugal

“ Studying at ISCTE Business School I remember as challenging but also very fun. The school promotes proactivity and gives a lot of opportunities to its students. Here you can grow not only professionally but also as a person as there are a lot of activities being organized all year long. We had a negotiation course in Spain, opportunities for summer schools all over the world and Erasmus programs. ISCTE creates a connection between students and companies thus making the young inexperienced people get closer to the professional world and receive various job opportunities through career fairs and internal job platforms. If I could turn the time back, I would definitely choose ISCTE again. It is a window to your future.

Sebastian Mertens
Management Consulting at Detecon International GmbH
Düsseldorf, North Rhine-Westphalia, Germany

“ In my opinion, the experience of studying at ISCTE Business School is highly valuable as both multicultural understanding and international management skills are becoming increasingly important to employers.

Anne Hjortsholm
Program Manager at Facebook
Menlo Park, California, USA

“ Studying the MSc in BA at IBS has been a great privilege. The programme is very well designed, challenging and has a broad coverage of the business field. As a student, you will be taught how to strive for excellence by dedicated professors. This master will thus not only provide you with a competitive degree, it will prepare you to excel in a global context.

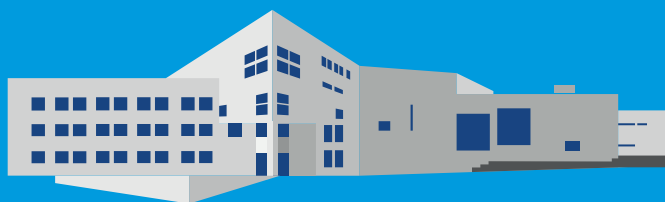

Luoheng Zheng
Vice Principal of Finance at Gammastar Medical Group
Shanghai City, China

“ With the entrance of China to WTO Chinese managers have to be ready to face global challenges. A degree obtained overseas offers a chance to gain wider knowledge and skills. The Master in International Management gave me a unique opportunity to know much more about doing business not on a local but on a global scale.

Sabrina Weber
Brand Manager at Lay's & Doritos DACH - PepsiCo
Neu-Isenburg, Germany

“ My decision to study at ISCTE Business School was the best decision I ever took during my whole academic life. Besides the high quality theoretical knowledge taught by fabulous professors, who are not only experts in their fields but also care a lot about their students, the school offers several seminars and workshops to improve and train the student's leadership and teamwork skills. Furthermore, through the allocation of a personal mentor, each student's individual strengths become more highly developed as well. In short, the Master's programme at IBS prepares the student theoretically and practically for the challenging business world of today, thus making the graduate not only competitive but also unique.
