Course Description: This course is an introductory course on the basic political institutions and the evolving political system of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR). The fundamentals of the Basic Law and its impacts on the political life of the HKSAR will be examined. This course will also explore the behavioural and cultural aspects of Hong Kong politics, such as the changing political culture and pattern of political participation, and the problems that the HKSAR government encounters.

Aims: It aims to provide students with:

1. a basic knowledge of the operation and the dynamic evolution of the political system of the HKSAR; and
2. an understanding of the uniqueness and issues of the governance of Hong Kong.

Learning Outcomes: After completion of this course, students will be able:

1. to analyse the strengths and weaknesses of the political system of Hong Kong;
2. to account for the dynamics of the party and electoral markets developed since the 1980s;
3. to articulate views on the fundamental political and governing problems that the HKSAR encountered; and
4. to comprehend the trend of political developments and institutional changes ahead.

Assessments: Students will be assessed in the following three ways:

1. tutorial performance (25%): presentation, 12%; comments, 8%; and participation, 5%;
2. individual/group term paper (15%); and
3. written examination (60%).

Important Notes:

1. Students are expected to spend a total of 9 hours (i.e. 3 hours of class contact and 6 hours of personal study) per week to achieve the course learning outcomes.
2. Students shall be aware of the University regulations about dishonest practice in course work, tests and examinations, and the possible consequences as stipulated in the Regulations Governing University Examinations. In particular, plagiarism, being a kind of dishonest practice, is "the presentation of another person's work without proper acknowledgement of the source, including exact phrases, or summarised ideas, or even footnotes/citations, whether protected by copyright or not, as the student's own work". Students are required to strictly follow university regulations governing academic integrity and honesty.
3. Students are required to submit writing assignment(s) using Turnitin.
4. To enhance students' understanding of plagiarism, a mini-course "Online Tutorial on Plagiarism Awareness" is available on <https://pla.in.edu.hk/>.
