

Comments received from the External Academic Advisers

“I found both of the theses are of high quality, fully demonstrating the student’s learning in the entire programme, including identifying and justifying a research topic, literature review and conceptualization data collection (though mainly secondary data and archival review), and analysis, as well as recommendations”.

“I find the overall standard of the program to be comparable with the University of Sydney. The range and breadth of the units of study on offer in the Department are excellent.”

BSocSc (Hons) Five-Year Programme Review

Comments received from the External Review Panel

“The Programme well aligns with the University’s commitment to whole-person development of students through liberal arts education, and demonstrates high academic standards.”

“With a well-structured and balanced curriculum, the Programme offers students specialised and interdisciplinary training in social science disciplines, using a variety of teaching and assessment methods which combines conceptual knowledge and application of theories.”

“Effective programme management and quality assurance mechanisms are in place to facilitate the review, planning and development of the Programme. In particular, the Programme over the past years implemented a number of major programme/course modifications and developments, most of which were made in response to the recommendations of the previous five-year programme review and suggestions/comments from various stakeholders.”
